

Opinion

by Tracy Abeln

View Author Profile

tabeln@ncronline.org

Join the Conversation

August 7, 2019

Share on BlueskyShare on FacebookShare on TwitterEmail to a friendPrint

The Copy Desk Daily highlights recommended news and opinion articles that have crossed the copy editors' desks on their way to you.

French Bishop Marc Stenger and Kenyan Sr. Teresia Wamuyu Wachira have been elected to the shared leadership of the global Catholic peace organization Pax Christi International. Read more about who they are in this report from our Vatican correspondent Joshua J. McElwee.

To the Guardian Angel sisters who run it, the Albergue Hermanos en el Camino migrant shelter is more than a center for resources or a bed for the night. It's an opportunity to prevent trafficking and identify those who may have experienced it. And though, with the threat of gangs, the sisters' lives can "truly be in danger ... we will share our space, and we will live out our mission." Read more about this ministry on the Mexico-Guatemala border.

Finally, three opinions about mass shootings and why the conversation is different now:

- What other countries have done: America is addicted to guns, and we're in denial
- What the bishops should do: Editorial: American carnage, revisited
- After weekend of mass killings, we have to decide what we are called to do

*Want to keep updated with the latest news from the National Catholic Reporter?
Sign up here for news updates by email — including one that will send you Copy
Desk Daily every Monday through Friday.*

Advertisement