

Opinion

by Stephanie Yeagle

View Author Profile

syeagle@ncronline.org

Follow on Twitter at @ncrSLY

Join the Conversation

July 31, 2018

Share on BlueskyShare on FacebookShare on TwitterEmail to a friendPrint

Here's what's new at NCRonline.org today:

El Paso faith community, papal delegate affirm solidarity with migrants

Religious patience can save the world, Bishop Soto tells social justice ministers

Irish pastoral worker tweets Laudato Si' to Trump, line by line

ICYMI: Activists risking arrest keep up their 'moral witness'

Seeing threat to religious freedom, Jeff Sessions announces special task force

Indian Catholic leaders protest call to ban sacrament of reconciliation

Don't miss these stories at Global Sisters Report:

The Life: It's all about helping women survive and succeed

Mercy Sisters share new guidebook for changing views on human trafficking

Column: Holding companies responsible

Q & A with Sr. Joeyanna D'Souza, Signis India's first female leader

In other news around the web:

Where Churches Have Become Temples of Cheese, Fitness and Eroticism

Why the US and Turkey are fighting over a US pastor

Advertisement

The loudest opponent of Italy's new anti-migrant policy? The Catholic Church.

A community that backed Trump says no to migrant detention

After decades of silence, nuns talk about abuse by priests

Nicaragua protests: Thousands show support for Catholic Church

Just for fun: Americans stubbornly continue to overestimate their intelligence