

Opinion

by Mick Forgey

View Author Profile

Join the Conversation

October 28, 2019

Share on BlueskyShare on FacebookShare on TwitterEmail to a friendPrint

Our team of copy editors reads and posts most of what you see on the websites for National Catholic Reporter and Global Sisters Report (the NCR project focusing on women religious). The Copy Desk Daily highlights recommended news and opinion articles that have crossed our desks on their way to you.

Amazon synod calls for married priests, pope to reopen women deacons

commission: Joshua J. McElwee and Brian Roewe covered the breaking news at the end of the synod: "The Vatican gathering of Catholic bishops from the Amazon has called on Pope Francis to allow for the priestly ordination of married men on a regional basis in order to address a lack of ministers across the nine-nation region."

Francis' homily during the synod's closing Mass serves as a fitting epilogue for the Oct. 6-27 gathering: Closing synod, Francis warns against righteous who leave God 'out in the cold.'

Upcoming bishops' meeting reflects current state of US church

Michael Sean Winters writes a curtain raiser about the upcoming U.S. bishops' annual plenary meeting, which he calls "a metaphor for the situation of the Catholic Church in our nation."

In this month's edition of The Life at Global Sisters Report, sisters respond to this question: How are your ministry experiences and your prayer life linked? How does one impact the other?

"If they care, they can be transparent": Voice of the Faithful surveys US dioceses' financial transparency.

Advertisement

*Want to keep updated with the latest news from the National Catholic Reporter?
Sign up here for news updates by email — including one that will send you Copy
Desk Daily every Monday through Friday.*